Fasten collar around the cat's neck, adjusting until a comfortable fit is achieved. When fitted to a growing cat, ensure the collar is loosened as the animal grows. In the fully-grown cat, correct fitting will allow one finger to be inserted between the collar and neck.

Any excess length of collar should be cut off and disposed of in the household refuse. Now wash your hands with soap and water. For continuous protection, the collar must be replaced every 250 days (8 months). Sucking or chewing the collar is dangerous.

Do not fit this collar on kittens less than 6months old or nursing queens. Your veterinary surgeon should be able to advise you of a more suitable form of flea control in such cases. Do not use any other form of flea control products on your cat whilst it is wearing this collar or within 7 days of removing the collar.

In some animals, skin irritation may occur. Check regularly that the collar is fitted correctly and comfortable and that there are no signs of reddening or damage to the skin particularly under the collar. Remove the collar immediately if there is any skin irritation. Do not allow your cat to chew the collar. If signs occur including vomiting, excess dribbling, drowsiness, lack of co-ordination and breathing problems, remove the collar and consult your veterinary surgeon immediately.
